President's Message

GOOD LORD!! It can't be time to start thinking about checking anti-freeze again?! Yes, I'm afraid that if we had an hourglass to measure the seasons, we would be running low on sand (isn't Corvette Season an actual season?). Our automobile related events are coming to an end for another year. No more Tuesdays at Rudys and only a few more Saturday nights at the Dairy Queen. If the final night at the Dairy Queen is like last year it is a good one to get to - they had a band and lots of door prizes. We do have the Oktoberfest car show coming up on October 2nd, and that always brings out some nice iron. Speaking of car shows, we just had the T & A show last Sunday - Fords, that is, and it was a success. We raised money for the West Salem Historical Society and had some fun doing it. Put it on your things to do list for next year.

Well, my 94 year old mother is still cleaning out old papers and she gave me this cartoon she cut out many years ago; I guess she thought I could relate to it. As any of you who grew up around farming know, when the vehicle tires wore out for highway use, they were relegated to the farm wagons. Back in 1963, my dad bought a brand new Ford half ton pickup, shiny black, 292 V8, with "three on the tree." Being a lad of 17, with a fondness for "cool" vehicles, it didn't take long for me to dump the "dog dish" hubcaps and put on a set of second hand four bar spinners. Now, I don't know what that truck had for rear gears, but it would light up those rear tires like nobody's business. I still recall my dad looking at those tires and proclaiming that he would never buy another Firestone tire, "Eight ply tires and they are completely shot in 8,000 miles!" Wonder how that happened??!

Fall may be upon us, but there are still opportunities to get some time behind the wheel of your Corvette: Stibbe's ride and dine up to their cabin, the annual color run, and Tom Jerisha has an adventure planned out for us in October. Enjoy it before the snow flies.

Thanks to Claude and Judy for the anniversary cake and ice cream at the last meeting.

Hard to believe, but we have another couple celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary. John and Susan Gesslein will be traveling to Italy to mark the occasion. Have fun kids!

See you at the next meeting, October 23rd at Schmidtys.

Save the Wave.

Dennis
